NOSEWORK WAS FUN!

PRESIDENT'S REPORT by Jim Clarke

One can only hope that spring is in the air! Since we were hit with our first snowfall of the season back in October, it seems like winter has been going on forever. However, it won't be long and the robins will return and there will be signs of life in our yards.

Speaking of signs of life, this past Monday, which was February 10, our building was a flurry of activity during evening training. In the far ring, a group of 12 people and their dogs were taking part in a four-week introduction to Nose Works. The class, being taught by Lori

Waters, was suggested and organized by Cheri Nicholas. Simultaneously, in the first ring, a total of eight handlers brought their dogs to be evaluated in order to receive their CGC certification. Karen Schlipf and Marytherese Marosits administered the exam. Proudly, all dogs passed. And, of course, there was a Novice class being taught in the center ring. It was chaotic and noisy; and, everyone was having a good time. Keep the Pop-up classes coming, Liz! They are breathing new life into GABOC.

Once again the hard-working team of Dean and Cheri Nicholas have come to the rescue of the club. Many of you probably don't know that Dean gives up a portion of his Sunday to set up our building for Monday training. While Dean is a paid employee of our club, he and Cheri work side -by-side in order to set up the mats, ring gates, and jumps. On Tuesday the procedure is reversed and everything is dismantled and stowed away. Cheri works right alongside Dean as they unroll the mats, stand up the gates, and put the jumps in their proper rings. Recently, we were notified that a visiting dog had been diagnosed with parvo. Dean and Cheri didn't miss a beat. They made sure all of our mats were scrubbed with a bleach solution. Dean and Cheri Nicholas are two very dedicated people that go above and beyond for our club. All we can say is Thank you so much.

Let's Celebrate! Have you sent in your money for the Awards Dinner? Sheila Gardner, Banquet Chairman, is waiting for your reservation and check. Let's all get together to celebrate the success of our handlers who titled during 2019. Our Awards Dinner is our club's way of honoring members who achieved their dog-handling goal. Everyone is welcome.

Thanks to Cathy Haake and Chris Mazza Rally run throughs have taken on a new look during Early Training. Each Monday Cathy and Chris design a course that can be navigated by the beginner as well as challenge the advanced handler. While Rally is scheduled from 2:00-3:00, the class has been running over approximately one-half hour to allow everyone two run throughs. Cathy is especially happy to help anyone needing extra instruction. Early-training Rally has become very popular. Come check us out.

AKC Rally Tip Sheet – SPECIAL EDITION (February 2020)

AKC Rally Regulations – Updated Rally Regulations and Editorial Clarifications by the AKC

On January 16, 2020, the AKC made two announcements on its blog for Obedience and Rally Judges.

First, the AKC has updated the Rally Regulations booklet to incorporate all of the changes that occurred in the past few years. The updated booklet has a pink cover, with the date of February 1, 2019 (the date of the last substantive change to the Regulations). You can order a printed copy of the updated Regulations through the AKC Store for $12.00. You can also download a copy of the updated Regulations through the AKC website.

Second, the AKC has made “Editorial Clarifications” to the updated Regulations. The AKC made changes to certain parts of the Regulations to CLARIFY certain areas to better reflect the AKC’s intent and/or to make the Regulations consistent and/or less confusing. The following describes the changes.

1. Chapter 1, Section 15 (Transfers). This Section covers situations after the closing date for a trial, where a handler wants to transfer his entry for that trial from his original class to another class in that trial. The AKC clarified that such a transfer had to meet certain requirements, including that the class the handler wants to switch to had already been scheduled to be held at that trial. For example, if you finished your Rally Novice title after the closing date for a future trial, you cannot transfer to the Rally Intermediate class in that future trial if that class had not been already scheduled for that trial. You cannot transfer to a class that does not exist at that trial.
2. Chapter 1, Section 16 (Entry Eligibility, Change of Entry). This Section covers the eligibility requirements for handlers and dogs for the various Rally classes. The AKC added two paragraphs called “Judging Procedures Regarding Eligibility” at the end of this Section, to describe the procedures that the club, the trial secretary and the judge should follow when there is a question about the eligibility of a handler and/or a dog to compete in a certain class.
3. Chapter 1, Section 19 (Disturbances). This Section used to say that a judge must excuse a dog that is not under control by its handler, and any handler who willfully interferes with another handler or that handler’s dog. The AKC changed the word “excuse” to “release”.
4. Chapter 2, Section 8 (Judge’s Book and Score Sheets). The AKC added a sentence to this Section to describe how copies of the completed score sheets from the judge’s book are to be made available for handlers to review right after the ribbons have been awarded in each class.
5. Chapter 2, Section 15 (Collars). The AKC added a sentence to this Section to require that no dog may enter the ring, either for judging or for awards, with unacceptable equipment. Other parts of this Section describe (1) how each dog must wear a properly fitted collar approved by the judge, (2) how no special training collars, such as electronic collars or prong collars, are permitted, and (3) that nothing may be hanging from the collar.
6. Chapter 2, Section 19 (Misbehavior). The AKC revised the first sentence to emphasize that the handler is required to enter and exit the ring with the dog under control and without jumping, pulling or tugging on the leash. Other types of misbehavior are also described in this Section. The AKC also added a sentence at the end of the first paragraph to require the judge to release a dog for uncontrolled behavior, such as excessive barking or running away from its handler.

7. Chapter 2, Section 22 (Placement of Signs). Previously the AKC had permitted, but not required, the judges to use the duplicate signs for certain exercises in which the handler was required to walk away from the dog to give additional signals and commands. The AKC now requires the judges to use such duplicate signs to display them to the handler who has walked away from the dog. These signs are:

- Sign 206: Down While Heeling – Call to Finish – Sit
- Sign 207: Stand While Heeling – Call to Finish – Sit
- Sign 208: Stand – Leave – Sit – Call Front – Finish - Sit
- Sign 209: Stand – Leave – Down – Call Front – Finish - Sit
- Sign 311: Backup 3 Steps – Stand and Leave – Call to Finish - Forward
- Sign 317: Halt – Leave – Recall – Finish Right - Sit
- Sign 318: Halt – Leave – Recall – Finish Left - Sit

The AKC now also requires the judges to place the directional signs for the three “Send to Cone” exercises (Signs 306, 307 and 308) on the backsides of the initial signs for those exercises. Sign 103 (Send Over Jump) may be placed on the jump or to the right of the handler’s path.

8. Chapter 2, Section 23 (Sign Descriptions and Additional Information). For Sign 298 (Sit Stay), the AKC requires that the handler must be able to walk forward to get the leash. In other words, the leash may not be placed behind or to the side of the handler.

In addition, for Signs 301-303 (301A-303A), the AKC clarified that the handler is not required to halt at the Sign for the jump, and may halt prior to or after the Sign. The handler is also not required to walk to a specific location on the other side of the jump to call the dog. Such distances, together with the path each handler takes to get to the newly established line (i.e., the line established after a right turn, left turn, or about turn), will vary. The handler still must turn in the correct direction to avoid an Incorrectly Performed penalty of 10 points, but such turn is not required to be at a specific location.

9. Glossary of Rally Terms. In the definition of “Finish,” the dog must move smartly “towards or” [added words] to heel position. The AKC added the definition of “Released” as “A dog must be released if it is not under the handler’s control. A dog may be released from competition in the class for misbehavior.”

10. AKC Rally Signs and Descriptions. The AKC edited the following sign descriptions:

Sign 101 (Halt – About Turn Right – Forward): The AKC added the word “together” after the words “the dog and handler turn 180 degrees to the right.” The last sentence now reads, “The dog and handler turn 180 degrees to the right together and heel forward.”

Sign 102 (Halt – About “U” Turn – Forward): The AKC added the word “together” after the words “the dog and handler turn 180 degrees to the left.” The last sentence now reads, “The dog and handler turn 180 degrees to the left together and heel forward.”

Sign 108 (Offset Figure 8): The sign description describes how distractions (toys or treats) are to be placed by the Figure 8 cones. The AKC clarified that such distractions are to be toys OR treats, not one of each kind.

Sign 314 (Cloverleaf): The AKC added the diagrams of the three possible paths through the four cones as a part of the sign description.

Sign 322 (Stand – Leave 2 Steps – Call to Heel): The AKC removed the word “then” from the third sentence, which now reads, “The handler begins to heel forward, and commands the dog to heel.” Now this Sign is consistent with Advanced Sign 118, where the dog sits, instead of stands. For both signs, after the handler’s PAUSE, the handler begins to heel forward and, at the same time, commands the dog to heel.

Good luck at your future Rally trials!
